

Today's Creators

Summary:

Today's Creators is a daily bulletin celebrating those who have created the things we love.

What is Today's Creators about ?

We highlight the diversity of human ingenuity through the centuries. Those featured are people who have contributed in a positive, talented way.

Today's Creators provides snippets of interesting and varied information on artists, scientists, musicians, inventors, personalities ... it features some of these people on their birthday.

There will be at least a couple of entries of interest each day, providing some interest for a diverse range of people. Plus ... you can follow-up on any item of particular interest, with a link to an authoritative web page.

On Your Mobile as well

Today's Creators can of course be seen using the standard desktop browser. However, it can also be accessed using web enabled mobile phones (at the same URL).
